CHANTS AS USED IN WESTMINSTER ABBEY.

Edited by JAMES TURLE.

This Collection of Chants has been compiled under the direction of the Rev. the Sub-dean of Westminster, and is authorized by him for daily service in Westminster Abbey.

The object of it is to combine sufficient choice with order, and, by publication of the arrangement, to enable the congregation to join in the Psalms.

The first Chant for each service throughout the month is adapted from the well-known compilation of the late Mr. Robert Cooke, Organist of Westminster Abbey; the second and third are selected from ancient and modern composers. Some Chants have been written expressly for this work, and presented by the Authors, to whom the Sub-dean of Westminster desires to offer his best thanks. His acknowledgments are likewise due to those gentlemen in whom the copyright of certain other Chants is vested, for their obliging readiness in giving permission for their introduction into this publication.

The Sub-dean of Westminster is also much indebted to Mr. Turler, both for his valuable assistance in preparing the work for publication, and for his acceptable contributions to it.

The Chants specially provided for the "Venite exultemus," are for use when the Psalms for the morning are penitential, and the Chant for the day therefore unsuited to the character of the 95th Psalm.

With such exception, the Chants will accord with the printed arrangement.

Copies may be had of the Vergers of the Abbey, and of the publisher, Mr. J. A. Novello, 69, Dean-street, Soho, and 35, Poultry; also at 389, Broadway, New York.

THE HYMNAL NOTED.—The increased attention paid of late years to the music of the Church has necessarily led to inquiry into the best mode of reviving the use of metrical Hymns; and where the Prayer Book Psalter, pointed by authority, is sung (as it always should be), the ordinary metrical versions of the Psalms are no longer found to satisfy either the religious wants or the musical tastes of Christians. To supply the want universally felt, and very generally acknowledged, the Ecclesiological Society have laboured with great care, for some time past, to procure good translations of the Hymns which have been written by such holy men as S. Hilary, S. Ambrósé, Prudentius, Sedulius, S. Ennodius, and S. Gregory, in the earlier ages of the Church; by Fortunatus, the Venerable Bede, S. Bernard, Hildebert, S. Thomas Aquinas, S. Notker, Godescalcus, and Adam of S. Victor, in mediæval times; and by Santolius Victorinus, since the revival of classical learning.

From these authors are derived the original metrical Hymns which the whole Western Church incorporated into her liturgy. The Reformers of the English Church wished, but were unable, to translate them; Archbishop Cranmer desired that as his "English verses wanted the grace and faculty which he could wish they had," the king "would cause some other to do them into more pleasant English and phrase."

The first part of a Hymnal, intended to supply from these proper sources an orderly course of Hymns for the Christian year, has now for some time been found of eminent service in those Churches where it has been used; and a second part, to complete the work, is just ready for publication.

The music is that to which, with slight variations, these Hymns have been universally sung; it is taken principally from ancient records of the English use, now extant in the British Museum. These melodies are eminently adapted for Congregational use, and have been proved to answer better on the whole than more modern tunes. The harmonies are composed on the model of the great Harmonists of the best periods of Church Music.
